Holiday Greetings from NCSBN Video Transcript

©2022 National Council of State Boards of Nursing, Inc.

Presenter
NCSBN

NCSBN wishes you and yours peace health and happiness this holiday season with a future full of possibilities. Whether we gather with a large crowd or bask in the warmth of being with family and friends, the dawning of a new year allows us to ponder the past and look forward to what the new year will bring. In 2023 NCSBN will commemorate the 45th anniversary of its founding. Our special theme this year, shine through shaping a brilliant future, is a reflection of our steadfast dedication to our mission of public protection and our vision of leading regulatory excellence worldwide. Standing on our strong foundation, we surge forward taking on challenges and opportunities with brilliant ideas and Innovative initiatives. We celebrate with you the sparkle of the new year and the brightness of new beginnings

©2022 National Council of State Boards of Nursing, Inc. All rights reserved.