What Nurse Employers Need to Know

Background

• The NLC allows a nurse (registered nurses [RNs] and licensed practical/vocational nurses [LPN/VNs]) to have one multistate license in the primary state of residence (the home state) and practice in other compact states (remote states), while subject to each state’s practice laws and discipline.

• Lawful practice requires that a nurse be licensed or have the privilege to practice in the state where the patient is located at the time care is directed or service is provided. This pertains to in-person or telehealth practice.

• Nurses holding a multistate license are allowed to practice across state lines in other NLC states. However, a multistate license may be converted to single state license when practice is limited to the home state due to a restriction on the license or some level of disciplinary action.

• Advanced practice registered nurses (APRNs) are not included in this compact. APRNs must apply for APRN licensure in each state in which they practice, unless exempted when employed in a federal facility.

Employer Confirmation of a Nurse’s Licensure Status

• Employers can confirm a nurse’s license and receive a Nursys QuickConfirm report at www.nursys.com at no cost. The report will contain the nurse’s name, jurisdiction, license type, license number, compact status, license status, expiration date, discipline against license and discipline against privilege to practice. Employers can also view an individualized authorization to practice map which displays the states where a nurse can legally practice.

• All NLC states provide licensure and discipline data to Nursys® directly from the board of nursing (BON) licensure systems. Nursys is primary source equivalent.

• To confirm APRN and temporary licenses, visit the issuing BON website. A temporary license issued by a compact state is valid in that state only and does not carry multistate status.

Licensure and Privileges

• A nurse licensed in a compact state must meet the uniform licensure requirements in the primary state of residence (home state). When practicing on a privilege in a remote state, the nurse is accountable for complying with the nurse practice act of that state.

• A single state license may be issued to an applicant residing in a noncompact state. A license issued by a noncompact state is valid only in that state.

• The NLC permits a nurse to hold one active multistate license issued by the primary state of residence.

• When a nurse is hired in a remote state for a temporary position or commutes to the remote state from the primary state of residence (usually an adjacent state), employers cannot require the nurse to apply for licensure in the remote state when the nurse has lawfully declared another state as the primary state of residence. This is based on where the nurse pays federal income tax, votes or holds a driver’s license. The BON cannot issue a license to a nurse who has declared another compact state as the primary state of residence unless the nurse doesn’t meet the multistate license requirements and is limited to a single state license.

Discipline

• It’s the responsibility of the nurse to notify the employer of any action taken by the BON against his or her license.

• Under most circumstances, when a license is disciplined, multistate privileges are removed, restricting the nurses’ practice to the home state.

• Employers may register their nursing workforce in e-Notify at nursys.com at no cost. Employers will receive e-notifications of disciplinary action taken on any license the nurse holds in the U.S.
Moving to Another State

Noncompact to Compact:
- The nurse is responsible for applying for licensure by endorsement in the new state of residence. The nurse may apply before or after the move. A multistate license may be issued if residency and eligibility requirements are met. If the nurse holds a single state license issued by the noncompact state, it is not affected.

Compact to Noncompact:
- The nurse is responsible for applying for licensure by endorsement in the new state of residence. The nurse may apply before or after the move. The multistate license of the former NLC state is changed to a single state license upon changing legal residency to a noncompact state. The nurse is responsible for notifying the board of nursing (BON) in the former NLC state of the new address.

Compact to Compact:
- When moving (changing primary state of legal residence) to a new NLC state, it is the nurse’s responsibility to apply for licensure by endorsement. This should be completed upon moving and the nurse should not delay. There is not a 90 day grace period. The nurse may practice on the former home state license until the multistate license in the new NLC home state is issued. Proof of residency such as a driver’s license may be required. Upon issuance of a new multistate license, the former license is inactivated.

Definitions

- Compact: An interstate agreement between two or more states established for the purpose of remedying a particular problem of multistate concern. (Black’s Law Dictionary)
- Compact State: Any state that has adopted the NLC.
- Home State: The compact state that serves as the nurse’s primary state of residence.
- Remote State: A compact state other than the home state where the patient is located at the time nursing care is provided or, in the case of the practice of nursing not involving a patient, a compact state where the recipient of nursing practice is located.
- Primary State of Residence (PSOR): The state (also known as the home state) in which a nurse declares a primary residence for legal purposes. Sources used to verify a nurse’s primary residence may include driver’s license, federal income tax return or voter registration. PSOR refers to legal residency status and does not pertain to home or property ownership. Only one state can be identified as the primary state of legal residence for NLC purposes.
- Nursys: This database (www.nursys.com) provides licensure and disciplinary information of all RNs and LPN/VNs, as contributed by compact states. The public can access Nursys for free to look up a nurse’s license and discipline status.
- Privilege to Practice: Current, official authority from a remote state permitting the practice of nursing as either an RN or an LPN/VN in such party state. All party states have the authority, in accordance with existing state due process law, to take actions against the nurse’s privilege, such as: revocation, suspension, probation or any other action which affects a nurse’s authorization to practice.
