Enhancing Access to Nursing Care Across the Nation
• Multistate License (MSL) or Compact License: one license issued in the home state valid for practice in all NLC states.

• Single State License (SSL): valid only in state of issuance.

• Home State: the primary state of residence (PSOR)

• Remote States: NLC states other than the home state

• PTP: Privilege to Practice. The authority for a multistate license holder to practice in other NLC states.
Primary State of Residence is Key!
Primary Concepts of a Multistate License

A nurse (RN or LPN/VN) can only hold one multistate license issued by the home state.

A multistate license is NOT a national license, it is a state-based license.

A nurse has multistate licensure privilege to practice in other compact states (remote states)
Which States are Part of the NLC?

For details see: www.ncsbn.org/NLC_Map.pdf
The NLC was originally developed based on the Driver’s License Compact (DLC).

- It shares the same concept of one multistate license issued in the Primary State of Residence (PSOR) and accepted in all member states.
- You can drive across state lines with one license because other states are members of the driver’s license compact. They accept the license of your PSOR.
Based on federal supremacy, nurses in this category are exempt from licensure in the state of practice when they hold an active nurse license in any state.

This exemption does not apply when a nurse is practicing in a civilian facility in a non-federal role.

In this case, the nurse will need to hold appropriate licensure in the state of practice.

This pertains to a single state license. If a nurse in this category wishes to hold a multistate license, the nurse must have legal residency in an NLC state.
Maintaining or changing a primary state of legal residency is at the discretion of the nurse.

Should a nurse maintain legal residency in a NLC state and hold a multistate license and the military family is stationed in other NLC states, the nurse may practice under the home state multistate license in the other NLC states without obtaining additional licensure in those states.

Note: The service person and the spouse may elect to have different home states.
The military spouse nurse holds a MSL in her home state. She is stationed in a remote compact state for three years.

- Pitfall 1:
  - She gets a new driver’s license in the remote state because her home state driver’s license is about to expire

- Pitfall 2:
  - She registers to vote in the remote state

- Pitfall 3:
  - The nurse decides to become a permanent resident of the remote state
Jane is a military spouse nurse and married to Bob who is in the Navy.

They both claim Texas as their home state (home of record) for military purposes.

Jane holds a Texas multistate license.

Bob gets ordered to a base in South Carolina and the family moves there for the next three years.

In South Carolina, Jane gets a job at the local civilian hospital. She works under her Texas multistate license. (They are in South Carolina temporarily and do not plan to become residents)

How does this work for Jane?
Military spouse nurse Tonya has a Nebraska MSL.
The military has ordered her husband to Iowa (a compact state). The family is stationed there for the next three years only.
Her husband’s home of record is Nevada, a non-compact state.
What should Tonya do?
Scenario 3

• Sara is an active-duty nurse in the Air Force and stationed in Alaska, a noncompact state.
• She is ordered to get needed trauma training at a major civilian hospital in Washington State.
• Sara holds an Alaska license.
• She would like to apply for a MSL.
• What should she do?
• What can’t she do?
My State Joined the NLC, How do I Obtain a Multistate License?

If you are a legal resident of a NLC state that joined the NLC after 1/19/2018 (GA, FL, OK, WY, WV, KS, AL, LA, NJ) and hold a single state license in that state…

- Go to the board of nursing website
